

betakoy, Count Massiglia, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wade, the Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Shipman, and Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley.

Mrs. McKee, daughter of the late President Harrison, assisted Mrs. Walker in receiving.

MRS. PAYNE WHITNEY'S DINNER

Additional Guests Arrive Later for Musicales—Mme. Cavallieri Sings.

Mrs. Payne Whitney gave a dinner last night at the Whitney home, 972 Fifth Avenue, followed by music. Mrs. Whitney's guests were seated at one large table, which was decorated with vases of yellow spring flowers and acacia.

The younger married set attended the dinner, and about one hundred guests arrived later for the music, which began at 10 o'clock in the red and gold salon.

Mme. Cavallieri of the Metropolitan Opera Company and Fritz Kreisler, violinist, were the artists. Mme. Cavallieri sang the gavotte from Massenet's opera, "Manon Lescaut"; a solo from the first act of "Carmen"; "La Trieste Retourne," by Richard Barthélemy, and a group of Neapolitan folk songs.

Among the selections rendered by Mr. Kreisler were "Humoresque" and "Cannonetta," by Dvorak; a "Berçouse," by Mrs. Townsend; a gavotte, by Bach; a "Sarabande," by Sulzner, and a Hungarian fantasy by Hubay.

Mme. Cavallieri was accompanied at the piano by Richard Barthélemy, and Mr. Kreisler by Haddon Squire.

DANCE IN A NOAH'S ARK.

Men in Cotillion of Eighty Carry Heads of Animals.

The Cotillion of Eighty gave their last dance of the season last night at Delmonico's. The cotillion was led by James Clark McGuire, who danced with Miss Adelaide Gardner, and by Marcel Steinbrügge, who danced with Miss Helen F. Harris.

Novel figures were introduced. One was a snowball battle. Two large snowballs, six feet in diameter, made of paper and filled with confetti and serpentine, were used. There was also an ice carnival figure, with arches representing ice caves, through which the couples were driven by ribbons over hurdles.

The most novel figure was a Noah's Ark in one corner of the ballroom. The dancers carried sticks with the heads of animals as they entered the ark and chose their partners for the Noah figure. In the final figure a large tree of paper American Beauty roses was brought in on a sled by four men, driven by a young woman. The roses were given as favors.

Among those present were:

Mary A. and Helen H. Aldrich, Florence Beall, Helen A. Bloodgood, Grace Brewster, May Ballin, Edna Brown, Marjorie S. Baird, Margaret Deyo, Mildred K. Eagle, Elsa Van Kirk Foss, Adelaide Gardner, Georgina Grey, Louise E. Hammond, Ella M. Lindley, Luci Mayo-Smith, Emma L. Romeyn, Grace Steinbrügge, Marlon Willetts, Alice and Dorothea Wardwell, Dorothy Warrall, and Jeannette Willson.

George T. Brokaw, Dr. Edward Cook, Gano S. Dunn, Herbert N. Fell, M. H. Gallard, William F. Hencken, George S. Mittendorf, Acton Paulet, W. Hardween Starbuck, Henry W. Stackhouse, Evan Shelby, Chester M. Van Kleeck, Max L. Van Norden, and William M. Washburn.

A supper was served at midnight.

COLONY CLUB'S ROOF GARDEN.

It Will Be Opened To-morrow at Anniversary Reception.

The new Winter garden on the roof of the Colony Club will be opened to-morrow afternoon at the club's first annual meeting.

The garden has been in process of preparation for several months, and will be used for the service of five o'clock tea or as a lounging room after luncheons and dinners.

It is inclosed in glass and its roof is covered with a trellis and vines, while the electric lights are concealed in huge bunches of purple wistaria. Growing plants and flower boxes line the walls.

To avoid the use of ugly steam pipes, Miss de Wolfe, who had charge of the decorations, imported from France two huge porcelain stoves, after the eighteenth century designs, for burning wood only.

Miss Rothschild's Musicales.

Miss Gertrude G. Rothschild of 4 East Sixty-seventh Street gave a musicale at her home last Sunday afternoon. Mme. Kirkby-Lunn and Mrs. Robert Ide sang. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McKenney, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Black, Edward Schermerhorn, Miss Amy Schermerhorn, Vicomte Robert de Perigny, Arthur N. C. Treadgold, Gaston Velten of the French Legation, Lucien Bonzon, the French Consul; Count de Pontac, Count Scherep Spiritovitch, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lewisohn, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Guggenheim, Mr. and Mrs. Ley Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Stern, and Miss Hughes.

New Singer at Entertainment Club.

Miss May Corine, a young coloratura singer, made her debut last night at the Entertainment Club in the Astor Gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria. Miss Corine sang the aria from the mad scene of Donizetti's "Lucia," displaying a vocal power and range that astonished the audience. Miss Corine is a "discovery" of Miss Irwin Martin, one of the club members. Mme. Renard A. Waldmeyer also sang, and humorous talks were given by Macready Sykes and Walter Chandler.

MRS. WALKER GIVES MUSICALS.

Sembrich, Galski, and Bonci Sing for Many Guests.

Mrs. R. J. C. Walker, formerly of Philadelphia, gave a musicale yesterday afternoon at her residence, 787 Fifth Avenue. The rooms were profusely decorated with American Beauty roses, white lilacs, and orchids.

There was a delightful programme by Mme. Sembrich, Mme. Galski, and Signor Bonci of the Metropolitan Opera House, with Arthur Rosenberger and Frank La Forge at the piano. Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, Miss Harriet Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Stickney, Mr. and Mrs. George Bird, Jr., Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Coudert, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Abney, Mrs. Ferdinand Willmerding, Mrs. Lawrence Townsend, Miss Yvonne Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Meirs, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Goetchins, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burrall Hoffman, Mrs. Gouverneur Kortright, Miss Mary Pearsall Field, Miss Ward McAllister, the Misses Weightman, Mrs. William K. Pierce, Mrs. James L. Belden of Syracuse, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Dickinson, Mrs. George W. Kidd, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Weightman, Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy, Miss Annie Leary, Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Jerome, Commodore E. C. Benedict, Frederick T. Martin, James T. Woodard, Frederic C. Penfield, William F. Beekman, A. M. Bagby, Edward A. Fisher, Louis Keller, Prince Pierre Trou-